

2. If yes, the payment is prohibited under the Program Integrity Rules, and the Institute must immediately take steps to cease any incentive payment.

Some examples of covered activities for which incentive compensation is prohibited include, but are not limited to:

- Recruitment information targeted to individuals
- Recruiting solicitations to individuals
- Contacting prospective students
- Making student enrollment or Title IV aid decisions
- Aiding students in completing enrollment applications
- Completing financial aid applications on behalf of prospective students
- Graduation/completion rates, retention rates, diversity numbers
- Revenue related to enrollments and/or financial aid

Some examples of covered activities for which incentive compensation is acceptable include, but are not limited to:

- Successful season
- GPA and other measures of academic performance
- Student satisfaction

Do these rules apply to Athletics personnel?

Yes, the recruitment of student athletes is “not different from the recruitment of other students” however, bonus or other incentive payments to athletic personnel are typically permitted for successful athletic programs including